The Mission of the Mental Health Association is to deliver mental health education, support and advocacy and to collaborate in providing mental health leadership in Delaware. We do this in many ways.

Support Groups are available throughout the state for people who are experiencing Depression, Bipolar Disorder, Dual Disorders, or an Anxiety Disorder. In addition, the Mental Health Association sponsors groups for people who have lost a friend or family member to suicide. In addition, MHA sponsors a group for people who have lost a loved one to a murder. This group is through the Delaware Criminal Justice Council by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office for Victims of Crime.

The Association helps improve community awareness of these illnesses through various education programs. We provide education for the community at large through Community Workshops, Conferences and Health Fairs. We partner with the National Institute of Mental Health and the National Mental Health Association through the Campaign on for America's Mental Health to provide Depression and National Depression Screening Day – a program that provides Depression Screening at no cost.

Beyond Stress Teen is an ongoing mental health education program designed to help adolescents reduce the risks of stress and depression. This is done through presentations in Delaware high schools, wellness centers, community programs and the juvenile justice system.

The Primary Care Initiative is part of a national initiative in which MHA offers free educational materials on depression and related mental health topics to primary care physicians for their patients.

MHA's Advocacy efforts include monitoring the implementation of state mental health parity legislation and advocacy on the federal level for consumer protection legislation and comprehensive mental health parity. MHA has taken a leadership role to coordinate the Mental Health Consortium, a coalition of agencies working together on common goals.

Each year our Information and Referral Service responds to over a thousand callers who have questions or concerns regarding mental health services or issues. This toll free service is available from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Also, MHA and Delaware State University are partners in developing the Center for Mental Health Education and Research.

This Mental Health Services Directory is produced as part of our Information and Referral Service. We believe it is a very useful resource and hope you will feel the same way after using the Directory.

ADVOCACY ORGANIZATIONS

There are a number of community organizations that provide advocacy for persons with mental health disorders. These organizations work to improve the lives of both people with mental illness and their families. Some provide individual advocacy, while others work to improve the mental health system as a whole in areas such as health care reform, access to services, etc.

MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES – MEDICAID

Delaware now offers insurance coverage for Medicaid recipients. This new plan contracts with several insurance providers and mental health professionals. If you are a Medicaid recipient you need to call to sign up with an insurance provider offered by the First State Health Plan or Diamond State Partners.

NON-PROFIT COUNSELING CENTERS

Mental Health counseling can be obtained in any number of counseling centers that are operated as nonprofit organizations. These centers are often supported by churches, community centers, United Way, etc. Because they are not in business to make a profit, they can offer some services at reduced cost. Their fees are often based on factors such as income, number of family members, type of insurance coverage, amount of debt and other financial obligations.
 Even when a church operates a nonprofit counseling center, its services are available to all that may need them, regardless of religious affiliation. A person seeking counseling should call the organization to determine the type of services they offer:

TYPES OF CARE

Outpatient - This refers to regularly scheduled sessions with a mental health professional for counseling or psychotherapy. It can be for individual children or adults, couples, families or groups.

Inpatient Hospitalization - This refers to being admitted into a hospital that provides psychiatric care for a period of time.

Partial hospitalization - This is also called day treatment or day hospital and provides intensive outpatient treatment. Length of stay and number of hours per day/week may vary.

Medication - Medications are prescribed by psychiatrists to change the brain chemistry. They can either reduce or control symptoms of depression.

Self-Help - Support groups are not a substitute for therapy, however are viewed as a crucial addition or alternative to the traditional services provided by a mental health professional. Mutual help groups often offer ongoing peer support and education that professional may not be able to provide

TYPES OF MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

Psychiatrists - are medical doctors (M.D., D.O.) who specialize in mental disorders. They can evaluate and diagnose all types of mental disorders, prescribe medication and provide therapy. In Delaware, a psychiatrist must be licensed to practice medicine and must complete three years of specialty training.

Psychologists - hold a doctoral degree in psychology (Ph.D., Psy.D., and Ed.D). They conduct psychotherapy, evaluate and diagnose mental disorders and conduct psychological testing. Current law in Delaware requires that a psychologist hold a doctoral degree and complete two years of supervised experience.

Licensed Clinical Social Workers - provide evaluation, diagnosis, referral, individual counseling and group therapy (L.C.S.W., D.S.W., and M.S.W.). In Delaware, an L.C.S.W. must hold a master's degree in social work and complete two years of supervised practice.

Licensed Professional Counselors of Mental Health - provide professional counseling services to individuals, groups and families (L.P.C.M.H.). In Delaware, a licensed professional counselor of mental health must hold a master's degree and work three full years in a mental health setting with supervision.

Certified Mental Health Counselors - provide individual, group and family counseling (M.A., M.S., M.C., and M.Ed). They must hold a master's degree and pass a national certification exam.

Psychiatric Nurses - are registered professional nurses (M.S.N., B.S.N.) who work in a hospital or clinical setting. In addition to a medical background, they have specialized training or education in the treatment of mental disorders.

Marriage and Family Therapists - focus on premarital, marital, parent-child and sibling relationships, as well as larger family systems. A certified family therapist must hold a master's degree with specialized courses and must work in a mental health setting with supervision.

Pastoral Counselors - are ministers or lay people who hold good standing in a recognized denomination or religious faith. They provide counseling based on the theological and psychological dimensions of human problems. A certified pastoral counselor must hold a master's degree, complete clinical pastoral education and complete a period of supervised practice.

School Psychologists- are specialists (Masters +30) and Doctoral level professionals that in Delaware must meet or exceed national standards for certification including a one year internship. While they have a psychology background, they also are skilled in the areas of counseling, crisis intervention and therapy within the schools or in related settings. School Psychologists also conduct psychological and psycho-educational evaluations. In addition, they often do case management with students and can act as community liaisons.
